FATE OF LEAGUE HANGS IN BALANCE

CANADA RUSHES FOOD TO JAPAN

First Shipment Goes Forward on Empress of Russia Today—Further Aid Is to Be Given

DOMINION MARINE MAY BE UTILIZED

Emergency Supplies Will Be Suitable for Those Injured in Disaster—Seattle Sends Assistance

OTTAWA, Sept. 5.—The Canadian government is rushing relief to stricken Japan. All available space on the Empress of Russia, which sails from Vancouver for Japan tomorrow, will be filled with emergency food supplies for the survivors of the disastrous earthquake and fires.

At a meeting of the Cabinet Council this afternoon, held following a consultation between Premier King and Consul-General Ochiai, of Japan, it was decided to get the supplies organized and have them aboard the Empress of Russia without delay.

Emergency Supplies

The dispatch of emergency food supplies on the Empress of Russia is merely a preliminary to further assistance which will be granted to Japan. Premier King stated this evening. He explained that he had asked Consul-General Ochiai to advise him what kind of assistance which the government of Japan would prefer Canada to give, but the latter, who has not yet received any communications from the Japanese capital, was unable to make specific requests. It was agreed, however, that the aid, especially that adapted to the use of those persons who might be injured and suffering as a result of the disaster, be sent without delay. The food is being sent to the Japanese relief commission at Tokyo.

Premier King said that the government is also looking into the question whether vessels of the merchant marine would be available in carrying supplies collected from Canadian ports to Japan.

Needs Building Materials

Heavy importations by Japan of building materials for the reconstruction of the devastated areas are foreseen, and the Canadian consulate, although as yet no communication has been received from Japan. Both Canada and the United States, it was said, will be drawn on for materials, and Canadians are advised to get after the business on their own initiative. It was reported that big orders are already going to the United States.

Canada's trade with Japan increased fifty per cent in the twelve months ended with July. The imports were roughly $7,000,000, and exports nearly $17,000,000, lumber figuring largely.

Seattle Acta Quickly

SEATTLE, Sept. 5.—A liner carrying more than 500 tons of relief supplies designed for Japan, the Blue Funnel Liner, Proteus, will sail from Seattle at 2 a.m. tomorrow. The cargo space was allotted by Blue Funnel and the Chamber of Commerce made immediate arrangements to have the relief supplies, tents and other necessities.

All travelers who had booked first class passage on the Yokohama had cancelled their bookings by the time the ship sailed following an appeal by the Japanese consulate that they delay their departure until the situation in Japan became more stable. Fifty third class passengers, however, all Japanese, sailed on the vessel.

More than $20,000 of the $100,000 being raised here by civic organizations and others, for relief purposes, has been turned over to the provincial government, and the city is raising a separate fund of $50,000.

Gift of Lumber

TACOMA, Sept. 5.—Gift of lumber worth $1,500,000 for the upbuilding of the devastated area of Japan, was handed over today by the provincial committee of the Douglas Fir Exportation and Exporting Company. The committee voted to donate $5,000,000 feet of lumber of all kinds to the Japanese government. The gift requires the sanction of the Board of Trade of the company, but this is only a formality.

The lumber will be furnished by the exporting mills of the Pacific Coast, which are members of the company.

Bonin Islands Still Above Ocean's Level

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Doubt as to whether the Bonin Islands, lying southeast of Yokohama, had been sunk with the earthquake which rocked Japan, as had been reported, was dispelled today when the Commercial Cable Company announced the cable station at Pele Island, one of the group, had spoken to Guan repeatedly since the catastrophe.

Penny Postage Again

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Sept. 5.—Penny postage is being reintroduced in this country beginning on October 1. The first temporary loss of revenue as a result of the various postal reductions is estimated at £52,000 a year.

MANY FOREIGNERS ARE VICTIMS OF DISASTER

London Advises Estimate Five Hundred Lost Lives at Yokohama—Embassies Wiped Out in Catastrophe—Two Hundred Thousand Dead and Two and One-Half Billion Financial Loss

Lack of Communication Hides Extent of Damage

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The Central News reports that its Tokio correspondent escaped from the capital Saturday, and after many hardships arrived in Kobe with other refugees. He sends the following:

"Early estimates of the loss of life and damage to property will be found to be much too low. It is now known that the dead will number 200,000, while the financial loss is as much as five billion yen ($2,500,000,000)."

LONDON, Sept. 5—"It is estimated that five hundred foreigners are dead in Yokohama. The fate of the Belgian and German ambassadors is unknown, although it is rumored they are safe. Relief parties are now rushing to the scenes of disaster, and order is being gradually restored. Rebuilding in Tokio is expected to commence very shortly. The government has ordered the wholesale felling of timber to be conveyed to the devastated capital.

Splendid Work of C.P. Crews Draws Refugees' Tribute

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A cable dispatch to The Daily Mail, dated Wednesday, lauds the refugee work of the Canadian Pacific officers and men at Yokohama, who organized rescue parties Saturday night and saved women and children regardless of nationality.

The steamship Empress of Canada arrived at Kobe yesterday with 1,400 refugees, most of whom were severely injured. The steamer Empress of Australia is still at Yokohama serving as a home for refugees.

The Canadian government is also looking into the question whether vessels of the merchant marine would be available in carrying supplies collected from Canadian ports to Japan.

NEED TRAINED MEN TO MANAGE CITIES

MR. C. J. YORATH REVIEWS MUNICIPAL PROBLEMS

City Commissioner of Edmonton Tells Chamber of Commerce His Ideas as to Civic Administration

More equitable distribution of taxation powers between the municipalities and the Provincial Government, adoption of only those ideals in civic administration that can be paid for, and the concentration of authority and responsibility in capable, experienced executives—their aim is to attain by 1930.

The old stone-built British consulate in Tokio collapsed. Mrs. Horne, wife of the commercial attache, had a marvelous escape. She had just left her husband in the office. He was killed.

All bridges over creeks and canals collapsed; some of these waterways were swept away with many bodies. The correspondents say there has been a good deal of foul work by ghouls, both on Saturday and Sunday, and several bodies have been seen with dagger wounds.

The eastern breakwater at Yokohama has more than half disappeared. The northern breakwater has sunk even further. Two-thirds of it only remain. Half of the Yokohama pier has sunk and the remainder burned. All the custom house buildings were destroyed.

Embassies Destroyed

SHANGHAI, Sept. 5.—The Nihon Dempo, a Japanese news agency, reports that so far no deaths have been reported among the foreign diplomatic representatives at Tokio, but the apprehension is great.

It is stated that the American, French and Chinese embassies were totally destroyed and the British, Italian and Netherlands embassies were partially burned. The legations of Switzerland, Czechoslovakia and other powers were seriously damaged.

Owing to Reports

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The earthquake reaching London from Japan continues sparse, piecemeal and conflicting, and it still is impossible to form any idea of the real extent of the disaster.

It is believed that whatever sources of communication are available probably are being monopolized by the Japanese government and the authorities for humanitarian purposes, according to Mr. Yorath.

Failure to employ the principles of sound town planning and unwise financing of local improvements were regarded as two primary causes of the economic condition of Western municipalities.

He emphasized continually through his address the importance of getting experienced men—men trained in municipal affairs—to run the business of cities. He departed from the general text of his speech with a reference to the City Council's discussion regarding appointment of a comptroller.

A comptroller is basically an auditor and accountant, and if you do not appoint a man who is something more than an accountant, you cannot hope to get your administrative problems solved," said Mr. Yorath.

Mr. C. T. Cross, president of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced Mr. Yorath as "the saviour of Saskatoon and Edmonton." A vote of

CHINA RESENTS NEW ENACTMENT

Legislation Recently Passed by Ottawa May Mean Break Between Countries, Declares Consul-General Tsur

EN ROUTE TO PEKING TO SUBMIT REPORT

His Return Tantamount to Break in Relations, in His Opinion—May Be Boycott Against Dominion

VANCOUVER, Sept. 5.—The new legislation enacted by the Canadian Parliament at its last session regulating Chinese immigration was considered by the Chinese Government in Peking, as high-handed and entirely out of line with the relations which exist between two friendly countries. Such was the statement attributed today to Consul-General Chilien Tsur, of the Republic of China, in an interview.

Dr. Tsur is here from Ottawa en route to Peking to report to his Government on the new bill regulating Chinese immigration. He sailed from Victoria on the Empress of Russia.

Break in Relations

Dr. Tsur considers his recall to China, in a measure, as a break in the relations between the two countries. He was uncertain where he should return, not perhaps, he is reported, because he does not like Canada, but agreed to a modification of the distasteful bill, the terms of which, in Dr. Tsur's opinion, are so harsh that there is bound to be a revolution of feeling in China towards Canada, and the commerce between the two countries would greatly suffer as a consequence.

Not only that, but he feared there would be a boycott in China not only against Canadian goods, but against Canadian missionaries and Canadian teachers as well.

Legislation Objectionable

There were three main points in the bill, he said, to which the Chinese Government took exception. First, they objected to what practically amounted to the exclusion of the wives and children of Chinese residents in Canada; then they thought the new registration clause, under which a Chinaman failing to register was liable to a fine of $500, harsh and unnecessary, and, thirdly, they failed to see the justice of compelling those Chinese, who might have changed their occupation in the country since 1917, to pay a second poll tax.

Premier Yamamoto Now Holds Office

New Japanese Prime Minister Installed as Earthquake Brings Rain to His Country

OSAKA, Sept. 5.—A deputy representative of the Japanese parliament, returned from Tokio today, and the new cabinet was installed with ceremony Sunday evening.

This unprecedented procedure was followed because it was feared to hold it indoors, as the earthquakes were continuing as at that time.

Afterwards Premier Yamamoto held his first cabinet meeting outside his official residence to discuss relief measures.

REVOLUTIONARIES DEFEAT REGULARS

MONTEVIDEO, Sept. 5.—A force of regulars numbering 700 men has been defeated by a band of revolutionaries in the Brazilian state of Rio Grande do Sul, according to advices received from the border. The engagement took place at Poncho Verde. The losses of the government detachment were eighty-six killed and 150 wounded, while the rebels lost nine killed and twenty-three wounded.

National Earnings Continue Increase

MONTREAL, Sept. 5.—Gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the week ending August 31 were $17,179,880, an increase of $108,531, or thirteen per cent as compared with the corresponding period of 1922.

The gross earnings from January 1 to August 31, 1922, have been $165,739,665.80, an increase of $17,878,145.1, as compared with the corresponding period of 1921.

Lawson Ministry In Victoria Resigns

MELBOURNE, Sept. 5.—Premier H. S. W. Lawson, of Victoria, resigned yesterday, and a composite ministry is now being formed.

The Lawson ministry was formed in September, 1920, and re-elected in September, 1922. It was a national party administration. Labor forming the chief opposition.

Elevator Dispute Ends

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 5.—Plans for the completion of the Woodward elevator were adopted today by the Board of Harbor Commissioners. Only Marine at Ottawa is now required to pay the concluding phase of the construction work is recommended.

German Miners at Work Again in Ruhr

ERSEN, Sept. 5.—Mining difficulties in the Ruhr apparently have been settled without the necessity of intervention by the government.

Work has been resumed in all the mines in Ersen except one, and in most of the others of the Ruhr the men are going back to work of their own accord.

ITALY'S ACTION MENACE TO FUTURE OF EUROPE

Premier Mussolini's Refusal to Submit Greco-Italian Dispute to League of Nations Held, in British Opinion, to Imperil Treaty of Versailles—Lord Robert Cecil Gives Warning

GENEVA, Sept. 6.—The superstructure of the League of Nations is imperilled, and, in the British view, the very foundations of present day Europe are shaken.

Such briefly, is a summary of the situation at Geneva tonight because of Italy's refusal to recognize the right of the League of Nations to intervene in her dispute with Greece.

Conternation and a deal of sadness prevails everywhere, for it is generally, though reluctantly, admitted that the League has been unable to withstand the greatest test of its practical use as machinery for regulating differences between nations, as one of its leading members has declined to concede to its competence.

Hence there is a growing sentiment among the smaller countries that if the League covenant applies to them apparently it does not bind the great powers of Europe.

Hope for Best

All the more do they feel convinced of this because the proportions which the Italian-Greek conflict have taken are deemed by them to be justified by the original cause of the controversy, serious and regrettable as was the murder of the Italian officers.

But hope is not abandoned.

Signor Salandra's entire argument was that the questions arising from the assassination of the Italian mission should be settled by the Council of Ambassadors and not by the League.

The head of the Italian delegation accused Greece of cleverly seeking to escape from her responsibility and of diverting world attention from the murder of Italian officers to Corfu by denouncing this seizure as an act of dangerous aggression.

Italo-Canadian Commercial Pact Is Now Effective

ROME, Sept. 5.—The Italian cabinet has approved the decree providing for the Italo-Canadian commercial pact, which was signed in London last January, mutually conceding most favored nation treatment.

The convention will remain in force four years and is renewable.

SUPPORTS PRESENT SYSTEM OF APPEAL

Speaker at Bar Association Meeting Advocates Existing Machinery of Imperial Privy Council

MONTREAL, Sept. 5.—Continuation of the right of citizens of this country, as well as those of other British dominions, to appeal to the Privy Council, was approved by the Canadian bar association.

As the good-natured appearing former Premier read his fateful message to a crowded council chamber, his auditors thought to hear in fancy of the voice of Salandra but that of his Fascist chief and leader, who has suddenly loomed upon the stage of Europe.

"No state would wish to belong to the League," read Salandra, "if membership meant renunciation of the right to defend its national dignity. Italy had not meenaged world peace," he said. Until the Ambassadors' body pronounced judgment, he intended, any action by the League was out of place, because of the League's evident incapacity.

ITALY'S PREMIER TO BOLT LEAGUE

MUSSOLINI ASSERTS HE WILL STAND NO INTERFERENCE
British Press Sees End to League of Nations Should It Bow to Italian Demand

ROME, Sept. 4.—In an energetic statement before his council of ministers today, Premier Mussolini emphasized his determination not to recede from his stand in the conflict with Greece. He was firmly decided rather to withdraw from the League of Nations than to allow what he considered illegal interference in Italy's right to protect her honor, dignity and the life of her subjects and to claim adequate reparation when she had been so terribly outraged.

The premier, in equally strong words, stigmatized the attitude of British newspapers, which had adversely criticized his stand in the controversy.

"The threat of a fresh war is merely a bogey intended to impress public opinion," said the premier. "Since neither Greece nor Jugoslavia can, and Italy does not intend, to make war, the bogey vanishes at all." It is your opinion from Sant'Quirico, says Albanian troops with cannon and machine guns are massed at the Greek frontier fearing complications; but such movements more or less by regular troops constantly are occurring in that region."

Challenge to League
LONDON, Sept. 5.—Friends of the League of Nations among the British newspapers are gravely perturbed at Mussolini's threat to withdraw should the League insist upon intervention in the Greco-Italian conflict.

"The League is challenged at its foundation; it must take up the challenge or abdicate," says The Daily Chronicle.

The Morning Post asserts that the League is now at the very crisis of its career and that it almost looks as if this present situation would be its death warrant.

Other newspapers urge the League to stand fast and not allow itself to be intimidated by the Italian premier, who is well-meaning.

On the other hand both The Daily Mail and The Daily Express indulge in tirades against Lord Robert Cecil. The latter newspaper visualizes the dire consequences that would result from the application of a moral and economic boycott of Italy, which it says would spell war where Great Britain and France would have to do most of the fighting.

The Manchester Guardian comments: "Language serves different purposes for different men, but if Mussolini means seriously and in cold blood that Italy will withdraw from the League rather than accept its intervention, then the League is in great peril. If it surrenders to Mussolini's life would be over and it is clear that the Treaty of Versailles would not long survive the League."

Paris Advice
PARIS, Sept. 5.—The council of the League of Nations is strongly urged today by La Timpia, semi-official organ, to refrain from any action in the Greek-Italian controversy.

The League is capable of doing a which confronted the British Empire, was almost an impossible one, yet he knew from his own experience in the arena of world affairs that the position and power of the British Empire was "quite the biggest thing in the world today."

The British Empire wanted peace.

At the Imperial Conference, General Smuts, premier of the South African Union, dealt with South Africa's need for imperial rank.

The United States, said the premier, in view of their customs barriers, did not now offer any considerable opportunity.

Discussing the question of a trade preference, General Smuts could not conceive that the British Government would have called an economic conference unless they were prepared to listen carefully to any views the Dominions might advance within limits. He assumed that the British Government was prepared to meet the Dominions on a number of questions.

Continuing the premier said nothing could save the world but peace.

The entry of the United States into the field of peace, as in the field of war, would mean that the position of the world would be easily saved. The task of securing peace in Europe,

Montevideo, Sept. 4.—A sanguinary battle is reported to have taken place yesterday at Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, within a league of the Uruguayan border, between rebels and Brazilian regular troops.

Red Cross sections have left for the battlefield from the frontier towns of Uruguay to attend the wounded who are reported to be numerous.

Uruguayan troops are guarding the frontier to prevent the combatants from entering Uruguayan territory.

It is believed that the battle will have a decisive effect on the rebel cause.

PRINCE IS GIVEN ROUSING SEND-OFF

NOW ON ATLANTIC EN ROUTE TO THE DOMINION

At London and Southampton His Royal Highness Is Acclaimed—Spends Month in Canada

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 5.—The Empress of France, with the Prince of Wales traveling as Lord Renfrew among the passengers, steamed out of the harbor hero for Quebec early this afternoon. The departure was not attended by any public ceremony, although there was a large crowd at the gates of the docks. There was no cheering from the dock hands and others on the docks, however, as the vessel steamed away.

While awaiting the departure of the steamer, the Prince engaged in conversation with Captain Griffith, the commander, and other officers of the ship.

London's Send-Off

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The Prince of Wales was given an enthusiastic send-off this morning as he was leaving London for Southampton to board the Canadian Pacific steamer Empress of France and sail for Canada.

There was no mistaking the Prince's pleasure as he started on his trip to Western Canada, where, at his ranch in Alberta, he will experience the joys of a rancher free from speech-making and ceremonial. To many, the departure was noted as an ordinary passenger steamer which was to prevent a large crowd assembling at the station platform, but other passengers who are crossing the Atlantic on the same steamer gathered as near as possible to the royal saloon on the train. These gave the Prince a rousing cheer as he alighted from his private car with Admiral Sir Lionel Hailey, who traveled with him to Southampton.

Premier's Tribute

At a banquet earlier in the evening Right Hon. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, extended to Mr. Hughes, on behalf of the Government and people of Canada, a cordial welcome.

The Premier referred to the occasion as the second within a period of six weeks when American friendliness had found expression for the visit to the Dominion of one of their first citizens. Commenting upon Mr. Harding's speech in Vancouver last July, he said it constituted a charter of international relations by which the new world's liberties were maintained and the one real contribution which it was possible for the civilization of the New World to make to the Old.

Mr. King then proposed the toast to Secretary Hughes.

The toast was limited to "The King, the President of the United States, and the Hon. Charles Evans Hughes."

Hon. Senator Dundurn, government leader in the Senate, in moving a vote of thanks to Secretary Hughes, said that, looking backward, no other conclusion could be reached but that contained in Mr. Hughes' address, namely, that the pathway of peace is the longest and the most beset with obstacles which the human race had to travel.

An Ideal Solution

He said: "The ideal solution would be to bring all the people to think in terms of peace; to bring Europe up to the North American level. No headway could, however, be made until Europe lost the sense of fear."

"The International Monetary Union for Peace immediately suggested two remedies: Limitation of armaments and arbitral justice. The first was inaugurated by the Harding administration; when Germany has fulfilled her obligations, then will be the time for another Washington conference to consider the second."

Since the union of democratic sovereigns had won the war, he asked why not resort to a similar union to win the peace? It would be along the lines of a suggestion of Mr. Hughes, to the effect that for the purpose of the U.S. State Department boundary questions, a permanent commission for Canadian and United States citizens should be appointed. He suggested that if such a commission possessed wider powers between the United States and Great Britain would bring the same results. If France were also to appoint delegates to such a commission, would not he asked, the question of peace in Europe and throughout the world be solved in a large measure?

Some time ago I took an awful violent headache, then started to vomit and felt so sick I could hardly stand it all day; towards evening intense pain came in my bowels and I was just about to give up, pain worse as had; the perspiration stood out like beads on my forehead; then the diarrhea started and I really thought I was going to die."

"My husband went to the drug store and got a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; he gave me four doses at intervals, and by noon next day the diarrhea had stopped and the pain was all gone too."

"Now I will never be without Dr. Fowler's in the house."

Attendance This September to Be Less Than Last—Adjustment to Remove Any Overcrowding

The enrolment in the graded schools of Victoria this September will be less than during the same month last year. Municipal Inspector George Deane stated after receiving the figures from the various schools for the first day's registration.

The total enrolment, not including the High School, was 4,653, while in May of this year there were 4,865 pupils attending the graded schools.

"I expect the enrolment during September to be two or three hundred less than in the same month last year," said Mr. Deane last night.

A feature of the opening day of the term was the return of Chinese pupils to the schools, who had not changed their stand, but yesterday found of Chinese children enrolled in the graded schools. These are mainly in the North Ward School district, and will be taken care of by the following special classes: Rock Bay School, probably two divisions; North Ward School, one division; and Victoria High School, one division. In May of last year there were 250 Chinese attending the schools, while in the same month of this year there were practically none.

What overcrowding there will be removed by adjustment between schools, the Municipal Inspector said last night. The teacher for the Chinese special classes will likely be provided from schools that are not filled to capacity. At most it is not expected that more than a couple of additional teachers will be required on the grade school staff.

The attendance at Victoria High School is approximately 930, which is about the same as in September of last year. The number of pupils in the preliminary year is larger than anticipated, and another teacher may be required, but a final decision in the matter will not be reached for a day or two.

The application was opposed on behalf of the next of kin of Roundy, and especially of his sister, Mrs. Roselind Roundy Glynn, of Massachusetts, by Mr. H. A. Maclean, K.C., and Mr. J. J. O'Halloran, Counsel for the Standard Trust Company by Mr. J. B. O'Halloran.

Argument of counsel focused on the long history of the litigation over the will made by the old soldier, who died at his boyhood home in Massachusetts in 1921, leaving all his estate in Victory Bonds, held in escrow, and valued at $35,000, to his widow and to his property in this Province to Pugh, who was caring for him in his home in this city in 1919, when an order was obtained from Mr. Justice Morrison for an injunction in June.

Probate of the will was resisted by Mrs. Glynn; and in the original application before Mr. Justice Gregory that judge set the will aside as to its provisions in favor of Pugh, holding that undue influence had been exerted by the latter upon the testator at a time when he was of unsound mind. On appeal to the Court of Appeal, the judgment of the Supreme Court was reversed, and Pugh was confirmed in his bequest. At the re-hearing before the trial court here, it was ordered that the cost of the litigation over the will should be charged to both the American and British estates.

Poetic Justice

Mr. Hankey argued yesterday that the moment a man became insane the courts would assume nothing as to his intentions in respect of his estate, and that it was not within the competence of the court to say that if one had intended that all his expenses after he had made his will, should be met out of his British funds.

"The court is the mind of the lunatic, the committee (the trustees of the insane person) is the eye and the ear of the lunatic," quoted Mr. Hankey from the decision of a famous Judge.

"It sounds more like poetry than law," retorted Mr. Maclean.

"The law is often poetic," said Mr. Hankey.

"Or at least it sometimes smacks of poetic licence," commented the learned judge.

Following argument by Mr. Maclean, who contended that the property dealt with by the Court in Lunacy was not confined to the Provincial estate, Mr. Justice Gregory reserved judgment.

In Edinburgh

The Edinburgh visit was interesting. We were provided with a special train at London and this made traveling more comfortable. It brought us, for instance, direct from Bangor to Edinburgh, without change, in less than seven hours. One of the things that we had part of the afternoon in the Scottish capital was a visit picture gallery and shops. The same evening we had a lecture on "Old Edinburgh" by Mr. William Hay, curator of John Knox's House.

The next day we visited Edinburgh Castle in the morning, and in the afternoon were the guests at tea of General and Lady Stirling Gordon-Glen, "the Queen of Scotland." After looking through Craigmillar Castle ruins, which belonged to the family during the tour.

NO OPERATION FOR HER

She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Escaped the Operation Doctor Advised

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 5.—I wish to thank you for what your medicine has done for me. I was in bed for eight or nine days every month and had a great deal of pain. The doctor said my only relief was an operation. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines and tried the Vegetable Compound and the Sanative Wash, and they surely did wonders for me. I feel fine all the time now, also am picking up in weight. I will tell any one that your medicines are wonderful. Please mail my picture in my letter if you wish." —Mrs. Ed. BOURNELEIN, 1130 Ash St., Louisville, Ky.

Backache, nervousness, painful times, irregularity, tired and run-down feelings, are symptoms of female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken whenever there is reason to suspect trouble. It contains nothing that can injure, and tends to tone up and strengthen the organs concerned, so that they may work in a healthy, normal manner. Let it help you as it has thousands of others. It is now selling almost all over the world.

Epirotes Alleged to Have Plotted the Death of Italians

ROME, Sept. 5.—A special dispatch from Sanli Quaranta, Albania, to the Giornale d'Italia, said it has been learned with certainty that two days before the massacre of the Italian delegation at Janina, the Epirotes plotted to assassinate the delegates, held in Janina, approved of the decision of the former congress at Lutsk to slaughter the Italian officers.

The Prefect and Mayor are of the opinion, the correspondent adds, that the Greek soldiers asked the assistance of the famous Epirote brigand Major in the commission of the crime.

CONTESTED WILL AGAIN IN COURT

PROSPECTOR'S BEQUEST MAKES MUCH LITIGATION

Local Italian Beneficiary Does Not Want All His Legacy Consumed by Legal Costs

The much-litigated will of the late Franklin Elton Roundy, the Vancouver Island prospector and American Civil War veteran who bequeathed Victoria Bonds, worth $15,000, to Frank Police, constable black and present resident of Victoria, was again before the courts this week, when Mr. Justice Gregory, sitting in Chambers on Tuesday, was asked to make an order that sums paid out for the benefit of Roundy during his lifetime, under the order of the Court of Lunacy, be chargeable proportionately to the American estate consisting of Victoria Bonds worth $35,000, as well as to the British Columbia estate left to Police.

Mr. S. T. Hankey, appearing for

Frank Police, asked for a formal order compelling the executors of the Standard Trust Company to pay him the amount of $15,000.

ITALY'S TESTING TIME

It is not so much the League of Nations that is being tested by the present discussion before that body of the differences between Italy and Greece as the attitude of a single nation towards the amicable settlement of a dispute instead of resort to the arbitrament of war. It is Italy's bona fides as a member of the League of Nations that is at stake. Through the murder of the members of the Albanian boundary commission Italy was aggrieved. In attempting to obtain satisfaction in a dictatorial way she placed Greece in a position which has aroused world sympathy. There is hope in the situation through the fact that it is now being discussed by the Council of the League of Nations, but in the event of Italy refusing to be bound by the finding of that court she will alienate sympathies which have been her's in the past. The tenor of her ultimatum to Greece was in no wise demanded by any dictates of international usage. It was an autocratic document which attempted to humiliate Greece more than the circumstances demanded. It was followed by an overt act of hostility in the seizure of Corfu, where blood was shed, although apparently no resistance was offered. With such a court existing as the League of Nations it is obvious that the pre-emptivity of Italy has prejudiced her case against Greece in the eyes of the world.

Greece, by the new proposals in extenuation of her first reply to the ultimatum of Italy, shows a further disposition to avoid putting herself in the position of promoting a new European war. What she has offered is sufficient to meet the exigencies of the situation and it can only be the bigoted desire to assert the authority of a larger nation over a smaller that can lead Italy now to refuse to allow the Council of the League of Nations to decide what is the best course to pursue. It may be said, however, that if Italy should at the moment, or within the course of a few weeks, break with the League of Nations on the subject under dispute, there is other and powerful pressure that can be exerted to prevent that country from acting alone as the arbiter of affairs in the Balkans. Britain and France cannot stand idly by and see an unequal war being waged under circumstances which might easily set the whole Balkans afire and draw all Europe within its orbit. The pressure of these two nations is now being exerted to compose the differences that have arisen. There is always danger of bloodshed, when a government constituted as that of Italy is becomes complicated in international affairs. It is Premier Mussolini who is on trial because of the sway he exerts in Italy. The peace of Europe depends on the restraint which he will use in the exercise of his power.

AID FOR JAPAN

British Columbia can be of real value to Japan in that nation's time of trial and the Government of the Province is to be congratulated on its promptitude in offering a first installment of aid towards the rehabilitation of the district devastated by earthquake shocks. The gift of a cargo of lumber is peculiarly appropriate under the circumstances. Japan is at present British Columbia's greatest overseas market for lumber and it will become more so than ever in the future. The earthquake disaster will give a tremendous impetus to lumber shipments from this Province, and the Government is exhibiting real tangible sympathy in the gift upon which it has decided. All nations are showing an active desire to be of assistance to Japan in her time of extremity. She will want world sympathy on a large scale both in money and commodities for it will take the country years to recover from the results of the present calamity. The destruction of property must reach hundreds of millions of dollars. It is probably incalculable.

The active assistance of British Columbia should not cease with the forwarding of a cargo of lumber. The Japanese in this Province will do their share towards helping their countrymen but there is a human duty devolving on the rest of our population as well, and if it is considered necessary we do not doubt that our Red Cross organization will raise a fund to assist in the work of rehabilitation. This is an occasion when the Red Cross organization throughout the world can assume duties similar to those which it performed so nobly and efficiently during the Great War. It can be the agency for the accumulation and distribution of funds and for the provision of the necessities of life to those thousands in Japan whose worldly goods and means of livelihood have been swallowed up by the earthquake. It is a tremendous opportunity which should be seized upon without delay. The circumstances touch world sympathy in a poignant way and the relief is wanted with the utmost promptitude. We do not doubt that, in a financial sense at least, every country will be prepared to go to the relief of Japan, and in whatever is done in this regard British Columbia is prepared to bear her full share. The example has been set by our Government and it should be emulated by our people as a whole, with a lead given by the Red Cross organization in our midst.

FORESTRY CONFERENCE

It is somewhat inexplicable why there should be any wish to impart secrecy to the investigations of the Empire Forestry Conference in this Province. There is no mystery whatever attached to the conservation of timber supplies. On the contrary the wider the publicity given to the subject the greater is the likelihood that public opinion will become educated to the work of conservation. The Dominion Government carries on an extensive campaign to point out the dangers of forest fires. Our Provincial Government also does its duty in this respect, yet when an Empire Forestry body is carrying on investigations relative to the pursuit of a policy for the conservation of timber within the Empire, for Empire uses, the press is restrained in the facilities offered for obtaining news that is of public interest.

It should be pointed out that the Dominion Government representative who is accompanying the Empire Forestry delegates on their present tour of Vancouver Island appears to be responsible for this policy of silence, and he has not explained what is his object. It would seem to be an occasion when the Provincial Government should step in and ask that full publicity should be given to the proceedings of the conference while in this Province. The newspapers are much more interested in what the forestry delegates do than in who they are, though it might be pointed out that the authorities who arranged for the conference in this country took special care in preparing "advance notices" which the press was expected to use, while at the same time deciding on a policy of stamping the press from printing details affecting the actual investigations carried out by the Empire delegates.

The wayward controversy on flags has been revived in the Montreal press, chiefly, it seems, because of a letter signed by a "native born" protesting about the use of the Union Jack as the flag of this country. An interesting defence of its use is contained in one letter, an excerpt from which is well worth repeating. The writer says: "The Union Jack is at least well rooted in our brief history. The red cross of St. George was the pioneer flag of Prince Rupert in 1670, and it flew at the defeat of Pontiac in 1759. The reverted eyes of the defeated Americans saw our flag advancing with Montgomery, and again at Queenston Heights. It was the flag for which Laura Secord would have died, and the United Empire Loyalists left their established homes for it. The Mohawk Indians, under their chief, Joseph Brant, trekked into a strange country rather than accept a strange flag. This flag was the symbol of our Confederation and unity; our dead in South Africa sleep in its folds, and in France our boys have surely bound it to our hearts forever with the cords of noble sacrifice. What better symbol of justice and personal liberty than our flag. What flag should we care to exchange for it, and why?"

The Police Commissioners are exercising themselves over matters in which their control is, to say the least, doubtful, whereas they should be most concerned at this time in efforts to solve a local murder mystery which is now some five weeks old. It is a bad precedent to create in our administration of justice if a capital crime is allowed to go unpunished. Every possible aid should be enlisted to clear up the circumstances surrounding the killing of Mrs. Dick. We are not at all sure that all the agencies of justice have been brought into play.

The action of Greek brigands in murdering an Italian mission gave the Premier the opportunity for which he had been waiting. The murder of course was indefensible and the murderers should have been promptly punished and the families of their victims suitably indemnified. But it is not an easy matter to capture a band of lawless mountaineers. Mussolini made no allowance for that difficulty. The fact that the crime was in no sense political did not matter to him. The honor of his nation must be vindicated. Was it vindicated by turning the guns of his warships upon a defenseless town and killing a dozen or so helpless people? Will it be taken in the eyes of the world by taking possession of and retaining territory that has been allotted by an international tribunal to a neighboring nation?

It is hard to say what is the matter with the people of most parts of Europe. Perhaps the trouble has its root in the fact that there are no games played there; that there is only one game there, that of fighting and killing and robbing and looting. If golf or cricket could be introduced and the principles of honor and fair

The English guinea was so named because the gold from which it was made came from Guinea.

VIGNETTES FROM O. HENRY

Little Stories by a Great Story-Teller

A BRILLIANT IDEA

"He was seated on an empty box on Main Street yesterday evening during the cold, drizzling rain. He was poorly clad, and his thin coat was buttoned up high under his chin. He had a gaunt, harridan appearance, and there was something about him that indicated that he was different from the average tramp who beats his way by lies and fraud."

"The Post man felt a touch of sympathy and went up to him and said: 'There's a place around the corner where you can get a lunch and lodgings for a small sum. When did you start town?'"

"The man stared at the reporter out of his small, keen eyes and said: 'Young man, you're a genius. I'll put rents up 25 per cent tomorrow.'"

"And one more capitalist was saved."

"By the way, that makes more room everywhere. You just raise all your tenants' rent on account of the extra space."

"Young man, you're a genius. I'll put rents up 25 per cent tomorrow."

"Well, I own them, and I'm just sitting here studying what I'm going to do."

"What's the trouble?"

"Play inculcated and established at the same time, the general effect might be good. Baseball would not do, as it only excites bad passions. The idea might be worthy of the attention of the statesmen of both Great Britain and the United States. Golf is very popular in both countries, and the public men of them are wrestling with the problem of what to do to make Europe settle down and attend to business."

Parliament, but that Mr. McGeer, who is not a representative of the people, is permitted to talk to him when he and his Cabinet sit at the Privy Council.

If discussion had been permitted in the Dominion Parliament it would doubtless have disclosed that it was not an equitable decision of the foreign cabinet that these Liberal Governments are concerned about as some way to gild their own flyblown reputations.

Messrs. Mackenzie King and Oliver, being political bedfellows, the latter knows that nothing worth while will come of this appeal to the Canadian Privy Council. Ultra-Conservative Quebec, ruled Canada-Liberal Premiers with names and contempt, will see that, hence Premier Oliver's talk of taking his plaint to the British Privy Council, which again shows that he is either grossly ignorant or wilfully decaying in raising hopes of any decision from that source. Your contributor is, however, of the opinion that the wap today's Colonist (38th Inst.)

You will remember, Mr. Editor, on the eve of the Cranbrook by-election that the Premier announced through Mr. Mary Ellen Smith that a B.C. steel works was as good as accomplished. Where is it now? He affected to be troubled about the extravagance of his opponents and has tried to widen their expenditure. The Premier has told us that he was trying to get a position of public honor. How much brighter might he now shine before giving full play to his vaulting ambition he had thoroughly digested the following from Diderot: "Be a hypocrite if thou wilt, but do not talk like a hypocrite. Keep the voices that are dear to thee, but avoid their tone and the appearances that would make thee laughable."

We are more concerned that the Province should not be made ridiculous.

THE CHILD LOST

When evening is closing in all round. And winds in the dark boughs timber sound. The flame of my candle, dazzling bright, Burns like a tiny sun, and casts a pale glow. And warm is the bank, where thoughts are still, On timber below the windward hill. Days are long, and shadows are long, leaves Where lately I saw my child at play.

And oft could I see, as may be known To me, a single, little maid full grown. Her hair was long, and her limbs tall, And she had lived—if lived had she, so young and small.

Now, I go to heaven play. Young is she, and gay, her hair is long, her eyes are bright, her heart bold by breaking time, her hands burn'd all boud in heaven? In her play, in her play, in her play,

Yet, blest with all blessings are the blest, Their lowest of gods above the best. No show me the highest and you can be in shape and mind—in shape, in shape, Yet far above him is heaven's man.

LEGISLATURE TO HAVE BUSY TIME

MANY BIG ISSUES ON SESSION'S CALENDAR

Government Fixes Date of Opening on October 29—Long List of Suggested Legislation

Premier John Oliver announced yesterday that the session of the Legislature will commence this year on Monday, October 29.

All morning the Premier was in conference with Cabinet ministers discussing in a preliminary way the legislation likely to be brought down by the Government during the session.

Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, and Hon. E. D. Bowring, Minister of Agriculture, are expected to return here about the first of October. Hon. Mr. Hart will plunge immediately into preparation of the Provincial budget. The Department of Finance has already got the drafting of details in connection with the year's appropriations well under way.

The session will be opened on October 29 with a formal opening of the Legislature, and it is regarded as doubtful whether the Legislature will ever get back to its old practice of meeting in the Spring. Governmental machinery has been geared to meet the requirements of Fall sessions and now this routine has been established. It is considered that the Legislature will remain in session from October to December, with a break for the former system. Cabinet members and private members as well seem to favor Fall meetings of the Legislature now that they have grown accustomed to them.

The coming session is expected to be an active one, and while a few months ago the indications were that comparatively little new business would be before the legislators that no longer holds.

Plan Redistribution

Among the major questions likely to be dealt with during the session are:

1.—Revision of the statutes.

2.—Redistribution of constituencies.

3.—Construction of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from the present end of steel north of Quesnel to Prince George.

4.—Pending amending of the Game Conservation legislation and removal of control of the Game Board organization from the Provincial police by establishing separate department.

5.—Measures to encourage immigration and colonization.

6.—Completion of the transprovincial highway, either by the Fraser Canyon or Hope-Princeton route.

7.—Introduction of a gasoline tax and other levies.

8.—Amendments to the liquor control legislation with a view to restricting operations of beer clubs and bootleggers.

9.—Measures to reduce the taxation burden of municipalities.

10.—Reorganization of the method of financing hospitals by making them dependent on some more reliable source of revenue than liquor profits.

11.—Conservation of timber.

12.—Restrictions on the employment of Orientals in industry.

13.—Measures to land settlement legislation and provision for farming loans.

14.—Initiation of a new roads policy for the benefit of settlers in the more isolated sections of the Province.

15.—Improvements to the University of British Columbia and construction of new public buildings in various parts of the Province.

16.—Plans for advertising the Province with a view to increasing tourist traffic and new settlement.

TOURISTS ESCAPE TERRIBLE DEATH

Motorcar Skids From Island Highway and Tumbles Down Embankment Nearly Into the Sea

The timely arrival of Mr. J. Williams and Doctor J. P. Vye at the scene of a motor accident on the Island Highway near the water brought in Mill Bay, shortly before 5 o'clock. Monday afternoon, probably prevented a double drowning fatality under particularly dramatic circumstances. Sometime before their arrival at the scene, a motor car containing Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Smith, of Parksville, skidded from the roadway and tumbled over the embankment. Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith were thrown out of the vehicle and as soon as the accident was over, the car stopped. Mr. Smith, however, was held down by the weight of a log which rolled on him after being started down the incline by the car.

The accused, who were present in court, were formally committed in the original hall of $2,000. As far as the police officers are concerned, it is understood that their defense will be that they were acting under the orders of superior officers, and were employed as detectives in the regular work of drug traffic suppression.

Mr. D. L. MacLaurin, principal of the Normal School, does not attribute the increased attendance to any fear that the length of the teaching course will be increased. He knows of no special reason for the increase.

The only change in the Normal School staff this year is the instructor in household economics, Miss A. B. Mareeius, formerly of Prince Rupert, now teaching this subject in place of Miss A. M. Macfarlane, who resigned.

CONFIRMS NEWS OF IMPORTANT STRIKES

Managing Director of Dunwell Mines Returns From Property Thor-oughly Satisfied

Mr. R. M. Stewart, of the Stewart Land Co. and managing director of the Dunwell Mines, Ltd., has just returned from a visit to the latter property, situated on Portland Canal not far from Stewart.

Mr. Stewart says that his inspection of the property confirms all that has been reported concerning the ultimate developments made at the Dunwell and he has returned south with an abiding faith in the future of the property.

At present work is being concentrated on the further equipment of the mine. The completion of the pipe-line, which will enable the company to reduce to a minimum the present high cost of tunneling, is being pushed vigorously and already some 2,000 feet of piping has been laid. Additional buildings are being erected to take care of the increased staff, including mess-house, machine-shop, blacksmith shop and magazine. Three of the latest design Sullivan machine hammer drills are being installed complete with equipment and within ten days there will be in operation.

The new No. 3 tunnel is being driven in about 260 feet in order to strike the same ore ledge as has been found in No. 2 tunnel further up the mountain. This will give a depth of about 385 feet of ore. Driving north and south on the ore body in the latter tunnel is being continued and a similar method of procedure will be followed later on in No. 3 tunnel. It is confidently expected that by next Spring a large ore body will have been developed.

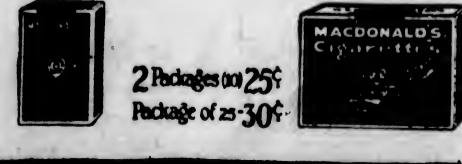

The recommendation of Geo. Clothier, district engineer of the Geolo. Govt., has been appropriated $1,000 for improvements to the trail. A crew of men are already on the job which is about completed, and enables the company to take up shipment of ore.

It is interesting to note in this connection almost the entire issued stock of the Dunwell mine is held in Victoria.

An invention for heating a wheelbarrow for winter cement work has been completed.

Daylight Saving to End—At midnight on Sunday night, daylight saving will come to an end for this year. Members of the Council express the opinion that it should not again be instituted here.

Cost Below Estimate—While the estimated cost of completing the paving of Shulburne Street, south of Hillside Avenue, was $8,000, the work actually cost only $5,800, City Engineer Preston stated yesterday.

Alexandra Club—A meeting of the executive committee of the Alexandra Club, Pemberton Building, was held yesterday afternoon, when an announcement was made that the annual meeting of the club will be held on November 6.

Holiday Rules—Today having been declared a civic half-holiday will also be observed a civic half-holiday. All wickets will close at 1 p.m. for the day, and the afternoon letter carrier deliveries will be suspended. All mails will be dispatched as usual.

Tenders Received—Tenders for overcoats for members of the City Police Force were opened at the City Council meeting last night and referred to the Police Commission and the city purchasing agent for report.

City Hall to Close—In view of Mayor Heward's proclamation, asking that a civic half-holiday be observed today in order that a record attendance at the exhibition may be secured, the City Hall will be closed this afternoon.

Organic Athlete Club—The West Saanich Athletic Club has been formed. The West Saanich Hall will be used, and Winter sports will be engaged in. Football grounds are also available. Another meeting of the club will be held in the hall next Tuesday evening.

Victor Proposed—Alderman James Brown Ingall, J.P., Lord Mayor of York, and president of the Victoria Club of York, was expected to address the Rotary Club luncheon here today, but he will be unable to come to Victoria until next week. Secretary T. J. Goodliffe announced last night.

Contracts Awarded—The City Council, adopting the recommendation of the Finance Committee, last night awarded the following contracts: Victoria Machinery Depot, valve boxes and castings, $60; $24.10, $22, $17.50; Victoria Brass & Iron Works, gratings, $72.15.

Shows Improvement—Charles Staples, the 15-year-old bicyclist who was seriously injured in a motor accident Monday evening, and Herbert Allison, a companion, who was also injured, were reported by Jubilee Hospital last night as improving rapidly.

Christian Science Lecture—A free lecture on Christian Science will be held in the Royal Victoria Theatre on Sunday, September 9, at 3 o'clock, by A. Hervey-Bathurst, C.S.B., of London, England, member of the Board of Literature of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Cost Objected to—Objection to the amount charged by the city for taking up and replacing pavement in connection with the installation of a new concrete curb was registered by the firm of McDowell & MacLennan, letter received by the City Council. The matter was referred to the city engineer.

Bid for Bridge Work—Tenders for the building and decking at the approaches of the Johnson Street Bridge were opened by the City Council on Tuesday night. The Cotton Company's figure was $14,038, and that of Parritt Bros. $11,900, and the City Engineer's estimate $10,800.00. The matter was referred to the Public Works Committee, City Engineer and Purchasing Agent for report.

Men's Society—The regular monthly meeting of the St. John's Men's Society was held in the schoolroom at the church on Friday evening with Mr. Hallam in the chair. After the general business had been transacted, the following officers were elected: President, Mr. Hiram H. Secretary, Stanley Hawkin; Treasurer, Mr. J. M. Nesbitt. These will constitute the programme committee for the year.

To Repair Road—The agreement reached at a conference between Government and City representatives yesterday morning, regarding the improvement of a section of the road on that portion of the old Indian reserve to the south end of the Johnson Street bridge, has been ratified by the City Council. The City and the Provincial Government will each pay half the cost, which is not to exceed $700.

Enjoyable Dance—The New Friendship Club held its opening dance last Saturday evening in the K. of P. Hall, North Park Street. There was a good number of guests. These dances are very popular, and continue every Saturday evening throughout the season. Hunt's orchestra providing the music. Dancing will be from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock.

Cannoun Chapter—Miss Leitch presided at the meeting of Cannoun Chapter, I.O.D.E., held yesterday afternoon in the Jones Building, when it was decided that the Chapter should again arrange the annual Halloween dance on October 31, and the proceeds be devoted to the furnishing of the Chapter's room in the new wing of the Jubilee Hospital. The usual routine business occupied the remainder of the meeting.

Forest Fires—Forest conditions in the Cranbrook district are described as "highly hazardous" in the weekly fire report issued yesterday by Acting Chief Forester. As a result of the long dry spell conditions are dangerous in all other parts of the Province as well. So far there have been 1,123 fires as compared with 2,209 during the corresponding period last year. Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland have had 431 fires so far, leading all other sections by a wide margin.

Scottish Daughters' League—The Scottish Daughters' League of Esquimalt is resuming its fortnightly meetings after two months' holidays, and the first gathering will be held

PRESIDENT BEATTY STARTS FOR WEST

HEAD OF C.P.R. MAKING INSPECTION TOUR

Party W.H. Reach Victoria About a Week From Sunday—May Make Run to Skagway

MONTREAL, Sept. 5.—President E. F. Beatty, head of the C.P.R., will set out tomorrow on his annual tour of inspection over the company's lines. He will be accompanied by a number of Canadian Pacific directors, and the trip will probably prove of more than usual importance, in view of the many important questions connected with transportation that are under discussion. The party of directors will consist of the president and his Master will accompany the president as far as Port Arthur.

The party will leave Montreal at 8 a.m. on September 6, and will make the 120-mile ride to Toronto, leaving the next day for Port Arthur and Fort William. Winnipeg will be reached on September 9, where a stay will be made until September 12. Short stops will also be made at Brandon, Regina, Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat, Calgary and Revelstoke. Vancouver will be reached on September 15, whence the party will go to Victoria and probably to Skagway, by the Canadian Pacific Coastship Service. The party will leave Vancouver on the return journey on September 24, and will come east by Penetanguishene, Kootenay Landing and the Crow's Nest, arriving at Macmillan's Inn, near Fort Macleod, September 26. Edmonton will be reached on September 27, and Saskatoon on September 28, after which the party will move to Winnipeg, arriving there on the night of September 29.

Aids to I.O.D.E. War Memorial—The sum of $200 was voted by the I.O.D.E. War Memorial Fund at a meeting of Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E., held on Tuesday afternoon at the Jones Building, with the regent, Mrs. H. F. Crowe, in the chair. Three new members, Mrs. Anthony Genn, Mrs. Rita Smith and Mrs. L. Turner, were admitted. A sum of $100 was raised to be sent to the Red Cross Fund.

Engineer Reports—City Engineer Preston reported to the City Council on the dredging activities of the Victoria Harbour Board in regard to the disposal of reverted land, which proposals were laid before the committee some time ago. The suggestions of the board were not looked upon with favor by the committee, which had delayed reporting as long as possible. Alderman Ker approves the plans of the reclamation and will have an opportunity to see how his colleagues feel on the matter when the question comes up before the council.

Action Is Wanted—On motion of Alderman Ker, the City Council requested the lands committee to report on the proposal of the Victoria Harbour Board to dispose of the reverted land by auction. The wholehearted co-operation of the members of the local postoffice staff.

Council Burows Again—The City Council has not through all but the first reading of the bill to provide for the payment of $150,000 to the bank. This will be the third loan by law for the year, the other two being for $100,000 each. Last year the borrowings amounted to $800,000. Part of the increase this year is explained at the City Hall by the fact that the city is required to turn over its advance tax payments to the bank, or else the bank to cover 1923 loans. In previous years the bank did not receive the money back until toward the end of the year, but advance tax collections to date this year have gone to help liquidate this liability.

Plan Activities—A good attendance of members was present at the first meeting after the summer holidays of the Margaret Booke, Royal Chapter, I.O.D.E., in session last night at the Jones Building, with the regent, Mrs. Gordon Smith, in the chair. The members are looking forward to the coming year, and have made many preparations for various activities, which include a dance and picnic party. The proceeds will be used for secondary education, and for the furnishing of a room in the new Jubilee Hospital. For some time past the members have had a boy instructed in drawing, and are extremely proud of his work. He was awarded the first prize in designing at the Fall Fair.

Remanded for Examination—James Campbell, charged with the assault of Clestie Clots, was remanded by Magistrate Jay yesterday for examination by the City Health Officer. The complainant said that the defendant had enforced a demand for one month's rent of a cabin by violent threatening with an axe, and with use of a club that went beyond the bounds of reason. And Mr. Clots was able to produce evidence that he had paid the $3, had already been paid, and in view of the further fact that Mr. Campbell's demeanor in the witness box was darkly mysterious as to an alleged machine in the cabin that made alleged noise destructive of the peace of mind, the magistrate thought the case was probably one for medical treatment;

SCIENCE OF SELLING EXPLAINED BY EXPERT

Retail Merchants Hear Splendid Lecture Given by Mr. W. H. Farley, Authority on Business System

Anybody who thinks the successful manager of a big departmental store, or any store for that matter which sells goods to the general public, is not highly trained scientific should hear one of the lectures on "Salesmanship and Sales Science" given by Mr. W. H. Farley, business system expert and representative of the National Cash Register Company. Mr. Farley gave such a lecture in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium under the auspices of the Victoria branch of the National Merchants' Association, and the store managers, department managers, salesmen and saleswomen, in fact, anybody who deals with the public in a selling capacity, who he had to say was as full of meat as a number one grade egg.

Mr. Farley dealt particularly with the necessity of establishing easy, natural, respectful human relationship between all branches of a store, and the members of those branches and the buying public, and he cited many amusing examples of the way not to attempt to establish such a relationship, especially he said, depended on many things but a salesman to be successful must possess the science of salesmanship, which he characterized as organized knowledge, and the art of salesmanship, or voice and manner.

By means of diagrams he showed in graphic manner the reasons underlying various selling and then he showed remedies which, if applied in time, might have prevented many of those business catastrophes.

Mr. Farley's lecture was listened to by the utmost attention by a representative audience, including managers of some of Victoria's largest and finest stores, as well as many members of their staffs. Mr. H. O. Kirkham, president of the local branch of the Retail Merchants' Association, was chairman.

"Get the other fellow's viewpoint and knowledge," was the advice contained in an interesting address given Tuesday noon at the Victoria Gyro Club by Mr. W. H. Farley, representative of the National Cash Register Company. Explaining, Mr. Farley stated that the habit of asking questions should not be curtailed when one reached maturity, but on the contrary, should be encouraged.

"The business man's best asset is an open mind," he said. "When people get older, they are more prone to ask. That a thing cannot be done after a declaration has been made that the doing is possible. As kids we ask questions about things we do not understand, and that is the way we secure mental development. When we cease to ask questions we cease to develop."

"Don't combat the other fellow," Mr. Farley urged. "Take time to discover what is on his mind. Make mental notes of what he tells you and analyze them. If the knowledge thus obtained is useless to you, discard it, but nearly always you will discover something which will be of use."

In conclusion, Mr. Farley advised all business men to engage in perpetual search for ideas. "Ideas," he said, "are just as valuable as material things. Progress of the world has been based on ideas."

Mr. Farley is also a keen advocate of modern science as applied to industry and commerce. He urged adoption of the policy of use of modern aids. "Don't do anything by hand that can be done by machinery," he warned. "If you do you will not be able to keep abreast of the world's progress."

MOVE MADE AGAINST HORSE RACING TOLL

Alderman Ker Would Secure Legislation to Keep Oak Bay's Hands Off Willows Track

Believing that Oak Bay should not be allowed to collect a toll for horse-racing on the city's fair ground property at the Willows, or have power to prevent racing on the track there, Alderman Ker has taken action to have conditions altered. Yesterday afternoon he took the matter up with the Finance Committee of the City Council and the body recommended "that the Mayor be instructed to advise upon the whole question regarding horse racing at the Willows grounds, and, particularly, as to the right of the municipality of Oak Bay to levy a tax upon horse racing held on the city's property." The Council last night adopted this recommendation.

Alderman Ker objects strongly to the action of Oak Bay in charging $1,000 for the horse racing privilege. He points out that the city pays taxes on the fair grounds, and the other municipality should not be permitted to charge a toll. Ker also believed that he was entitled to the right to be permitted the right to protect itself against racing of an undesirable nature, still he thought the case under discussion was a unique one requiring special provision. He wanted the solicitor to make a report so that the Council might know what steps to take through legislation at the coming session to secure amelioration of present conditions.

INFIRM WOMEN'S HOME

Monthly Meeting Held Yesterday Receives Report for August—Dinner Thanked

The monthly meeting of the Aged and Infirm Women's Home Committee was held at the Home Tuesday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Clay, occupied the chair.

Reports from the visiting committee for August were read, and there were two vacant rooms and that the inmates were all in fairly good health. Many of them had greatly enjoyed delightful motor drives given by the following: Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Bird, Mr. Baxter, and Mr. Alkmann, the last mentioned taking several of the aged ladies to the Conservative public. Present were received from Mrs. Henderson, Mr. Pollock, Mrs. Grant and Halinating Bros., and plums from Mrs. C. Williams.

The members of the visiting committee for September are Miss O'Brien, Mrs. Sabiston, and Mrs. Harold Grant.

The Girl in the Corner Apartment

By MAY CHRISTIE
Author of "One Glorious Year," "The Disturbing Kim," Etc.

THE CHARACTERS

Cynthia Brant, country girl, living in a New York apartment she has inherited from an old lady she once befriended.

Ruby Allison, her gay and frivolous friend.

Alice Kerr, Ruby's fiancee.

Quentin Gray, an artist friend of Ruby.

Anton Ellen, who keeps house for Cynthia.

Murray Stewart, for whom Cynthia is working as a stenographer.

Mrs. Wakeland, friend of Stewart and one of his rich clients, who takes a fancy to Cynthia.

XVIII.—Mrs. Wakeland

"D O you call Mrs. Wakeland good-looking?" I don't. In spite of her good clothes, I think she's dowdy. And if I were in her shoes, with all those little fine lines round my eyes, I'd go and have a course of face-massage!"

This last remark was being flung out spitefully.

"I suppose you would?" said Cynthia, slowly, in a way that somewhat made the speaker feel a trifle small. "Personally, I think those fine lines she has, although they're scarcely noticeable, I think they give her face strength and character. And though she may not be strictly speaking, good-looking, she has something in her looks that's better—sweetness and charm."

Ruby's lips curled. "You talk like a Browning lecture!" Then, with renewed impatience, she turned to Cynthia again.

"She's good-looking, and style, give me Violet Jerrard every time! She's a friend of Mrs. Wakeland's, and a lovely girl. A real blonde, with blue eyes, and one of those little angel faces that hide a heap of worldliness and coquettishness."

It had been said that Cynthia's eyes were "pools of darkness." Ruby's own eyes—which she employed lavishly for the subjugation of her swains—were light, and rather prominent.

She had tried not to feel jealous of her friend. But the remark had rankled.

"I intend to make myself a black frock. But, in the meantime, I must wear what I have got."

"Oh, can't I lend you something?" Ruby had her generous impulse, which she frequently gave way to.

"Your things would be too large for me. I thank you all the same."

"I'll fit a little now. Ruby's kindness—it hadn't been in evidence of late. "I'll wear the rose-pink today, and have something more suitable the next time—if there is a 'next time'."

"Of course, there'll be a 'next time.' The older girl squeered with her hand elegantly. She was really fond of Cynthia. "You're not as any in that set, and better."

But beware of Violet Jerrard. She may play the part of helpless kitten, but I shouldn't be surprised if she's a cat with claws. She'll show 'em, too, if you cross her path."

Cynthia looked her surprise.

"How could you cross her path?"

"Oh, I'm not stupid! Quentin Gray says you're most awfully pretty—"this in a burst of generosity—and I shouldn't be astonished if that old stick-in-the-mud, Murray Stewart, thinks so, too. The very fact that Mrs. Wakeland, the inaccessibile, is letting others of you talk me some sense of Cynthia. "You're not as any in that set, and better."

They began to take up.

Cultivate your acquaintance, and that sort of thing. And as far as the fair Violet is on Murray's track, beware!"

Ruby made a conical face at Cynthia and the latter laughed outright. Somehow, she felt happier now.

As for Mrs. Wakeland, don't mind what I've said about her. She's the "goods" all right, refined, and cultured, and with a good deal of influence. I'm only "peev'd" that she never took any notice of humble me; that's all. I did hear that she hasn't had a very happy life. I'm not sure if her husband died or not, or not. She was a young wife, and a widow, and she was casting at the prim-and-proper Murray! It was a perfect scream!"

Next trick was to shift some of her investments—or business affairs, or something—over into his hands, so's she'd have an excuse for dropping all over him, without a chaperone. Oh, she's a cute little thing, all right!"

Again that odd stab of pain at Cynthia's heart.

"Was—was Mr. Stewart attracted by her?" The young girl hesitated, herself for putting such a question, yet it seemed beyond her power to control her.

"Oh, he's a woman-hater. Yet—I don't know." Ruby knit her brow thoughtfully, surveying her own reflection in the mirror, with the becoming hat perched atop. "Men—the best of 'em—are gullible and easy, when the fluffy little clinging-kitten type comes by!" She swung her head round, to get a better view of the small hat. "Miss Violet used to come to him as a helpless baby. I suppose—"here Ruby gave a loud laugh—"I suppose that appealed to his manly strength. Ha! Ha! Men do amuse me for all their boastfulness!"

She swung round suddenly on Cynthia.

"What are you going to wear this afternoon, my dear?"

"My rose-pink, I suppose." This with a sigh. "I've nothing else."

"H'm. It's not awfully suitable for a Sunday, I suppose. You haven't been a dressmaker, ought to know that, of course," loftily.

"I was forgetting that you hadn't lived in New York all your life."

Neither had the speaker. But evidently she had forgotten that, also.

"Quentin Gray was telling me that you look a dream in black. When you're dressed like that, you're a queen."

She stared at Cynthia rather hard, as though trying to discover some foundation for the artist's eulogies. Had the little country girl really got a claim to beauty? Quentin had said so, very decidedly. He had praised Cynthia's little, pale, oval face—the face that flamboyante Ruby had called "party."

He had said that Cynthia's eyes were "pools of darkness." Ruby's own eyes—which she employed lavishly for the subjugation of her swains—were light, and rather prominent.

Cynthia looked her surprise.

"How could you cross her path?"

"Oh, I'm not stupid! Quentin Gray says you're most awfully pretty—"this in a burst of generosity—and I shouldn't be astonished if that old stick-in-the-mud, Murray Stewart, thinks so, too. The very fact that Mrs. Wakeland, the inaccessibile, is letting others of you talk me some sense of Cynthia. "You're not as any in that set, and better."

They began to take up.

Cultivate your acquaintance, and that sort of thing. And as far as the fair Violet is on Murray's track, beware!"

Ruby made a conical face at Cynthia and the latter laughed outright. Somehow, she felt happier now.

As for Mrs. Wakeland, don't mind what I've said about her. She's the "goods" all right, refined, and cultured, and with a good deal of influence. I'm only "peev'd" that she never took any notice of humble me; that's all. I did hear that she hasn't had a very happy life. I'm not sure if her husband died or not, or not. She was a young wife, and a widow, and she was casting at the prim-and-proper Murray! It was a perfect scream!"

Next trick was to shift some of her investments—or business affairs, or something—over into his hands, so's she'd have an excuse for dropping all over him, without a chaperone. Oh, she's a cute little thing, all right!"

Again that odd stab of pain at Cynthia's heart.

NANAIMO GOLFERS WIN FROM DUNCAN

HOME TEAM EIGHT POINTS UP ON THE DAY

W. W. Mitchell Makes Amateur Record for the Course With Nice Card of Seventy-Four

NANAIMO, Sept. 5.—An interesting golf match between teams from Duncan and Nanaimo was played here during the week-end, and resulted in a win for Nanaimo. Probably the most interesting game was that in which W. W. Mitchell, of the local club, defeated Hayworth, of Duncan. Mitchell was on the very top of his form, and won the holes in 70—his own best, and the best score made by an amateur on the Nanaimo course. The only one to equal or surpass this was D. Black, who just after the links were opened, made a score of 72.

The following are the results of the different games, the name of the home team representative being given first:

In the twosomes, McFarlane defeated French, 3 points; Mitchell defeated Hayworth, 3 points; Johnson lost to Duncan, 3 points; Ford lost to Dickie, 3 points; Leighton and Proctor lost to Duncan and Bruce-Powell, 3 points; Gladholm and Rucker defeated Ford and Plummet, 2 points; Playfair and Simpson defeated Kerr and Lomas, 1 point; Cowman and Jemson defeated Harper and Jemson, 3 points.

F. Symes—D. Symes: Miss McNab—McGaw, 7-5.

Lupton—Grant: Wollock—George, 6-2.

The visiting members of the Vancouver team were entertained at the local club and were entertained to a beautiful drive about the city, an excellent banquet provided by the ladies at the clubhouse and a flannel dance at the Empress Hotel.

As it is now too late in the year for any further interclub tournaments, it is hoped that the same interest and happy times will revive with the season next year.

Millions Use It—Fine for Hair—Not Sticky, Greasy or Smelly

A few cents buy a jar of "Hair-Groom," and a drab, stiff, lifeless minkie even stubborn, unruly or shamed hair may be combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is dignified combing cream which gives that natural glow and well-groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and pleasure.

Guaranteed, stainless "Hair-Groom" does not show on the hair because it is absorbed by the scalp, therefore your hair remains so soft and pliable and so natural that no one can possibly tell you used it.

HARBOR AGREEMENT BEING PREPARED

Hon. T. D. Patullo, Minister of Lands, Says Details of Compact Have Yet to Be Decided

Details such as the determination of boundaries have not yet been worked out in connection with the proposed arrangement to be made between the Provincial and Dominion Governments, defining the control of British Columbia harbors and foreshore, Hon. T. D. Patullo, Minister of Lands, stated last night.

The question is so complicated that considerable time is required to draft the entire agreement, the Minister said. According to the U.S. naval decision in respect of the protracted litigation that has been going on, the Federal Government is given control over harbors which were designated as harbors at the time of Confederation. This would probably include Victoria, Vancouver, Nanaimo, Esquimalt, Alberni and New Westminster.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Federal Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has outlined his plan that drafting of the agreement will proceed at once along the lines suggested during a conference between the two Ministers in Ottawa last Spring.

"There is no doubt in my mind that this question will be settled in a manner satisfactory to both parties," said Mr. Patullo. "It is gratifying to know that the Federal Government is moving swiftly in this matter."

Author's Association to Meet—The first meeting of the Victoria and Islands branch of the Canadian Authors' Association will be held tomorrow evening at the Victoria Club, commencing at 8 o'clock. Miss Kate Hemming is arranging a very interesting musical programme for this occasion, and Mrs. Winifred Duncan will talk on "The London Quill Club and Some of Its Literary Associations."

Japan Disaster—Rev. J. W. Sunby, B.A., D.D., of the James Bay Methodist Church, corner of Menzies and Michigan Streets, who spent over eighteen years in Japan and during that time made a special study of Japan and her people, will present Japan's history and the Japan Disaster to his congregation on Sunday evening. Being so thoroughly familiar with conditions there, he is able to speak most instructively and feels that this is a time when people will be especially interested.

Plan Bridge and May-June Party—The first meeting of the Victoria and Islands Chapter, I.O.D.E., after the summer vacation was held Tuesday morning at headquarters, the regent, Mrs. L. A. Genge, first vice-regent, presided. A message of greeting was read from Mrs. L. B. Kent, expressing her good wishes for the coming year. The report of the graves committee was received and reserved for future discussion. Plans for work were discussed for the coming months and a committee was appointed to arrange a bridge and mah-jong party in the near future, as the funds for the completion of the root garden are still incomplete.

RETURN OF RACING HELPS ATTENDANCE

CITIZENS' DAY AT WILLOWS FAIR THIS AFTERNOON

Mayor Hayward's Proclamation Grants Citizens Half-Holiday to Visit Exhibition

C.P.R. TENNIS

The return of horse racing to the Wilfords was a prominent factor contributing to the increase in the attendance at the exhibition grounds yesterday. Much interest was taken in the seven running races on the programme which were closely followed by a large field of spectators.

Bookkeepers of the city and all others interested in the sportsmen's art received many valuable pointers yesterday from the demonstration which Mr. F. D. Davies, of the main hall, Mr. Sawyer, who has a property of five houses in the fair, gave a very clear exposition as to how bees should be kept.

Music was the principal feature of last night's programme, an excellent variety of music furnished in the main hall by the band of the 16th Canadian Scottish Regiment, under the leadership of Bandmaster James M. Miller, while Professor Beattie's orchestra presented popular and classical numbers in the Home Products Building in a manner that proved very pleasant.

Today is expected to be one of the banner days of the exhibition. This afternoon will be observed as "Citizens' Day" at the Wilfords, and a crowd is expected to attend. His Worship Major Hayward having declared the exhibition open as a civic holiday.

Special attractions are being provided, and indications point to today's attendance being the record-breaker of the week.

Horse racing will be a big attraction this afternoon, while tonight the Fifth Regiment Band, under the command of Bandmaster Albert Rumsby, will give a special concert at 8 o'clock in the Home Products Building. Beattie's orchestra will again present a potpourri of the favorite musical numbers from 2:30 to 6 o'clock, and from 3 to 10 o'clock tonight.

BACK FROM EAST

Mr. Harold Cross, boys' secretary of the local branch Y.M.C.A., has arrived in the city after three months' absence in Eastern Canada and the United States, being in amateur school at Lake Couchiching, Ontario, about nine miles north of Toronto, for a three-week term. He also visited the branches at New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, in the United States and Winnipeg and Montreal, in the Dominion.

Mr. Cross inspected the largest boys' camp in America, including Crossley, the boys' camp for the state of New York, on Lake Champlain, and Camp Birket, the Massachusetts state camp, of which he says:

"In viewing those camps, where annually thousands of boys gather under canvas, it is apparent that the term 'boys' camp' no longer means a place where the campers lounge around doing nothing, but a gathering where they are learning interesting and useful things at the same time.

It is considered as important that the camp equipment be up-to-date, and the accommodation adequate for the boys' comfort and convenience.

Adams and Stevens, two new players for the locals, showed up very well, and after playing a few games with no doubt to be great credit to the line-up. Adams in particular was very promising, and was on the go for the whole ninety minutes. He is also very tricky, and was responsible for three of the goals scored, while Minto and Appleby each registered one.

COMING EVENTS

Well-Baby Clinic—A well-baby clinic will be held in the Cloverdale School on Friday, at 2:30 p.m.

St. Jude's W. A. Meets—St. Jude's branch of the Women's Auxiliary will meet at the home of the secretary, 478 Obed Avenue, this afternoon, 2:30 o'clock.

Guild for Sailors—The Ladies' Guild for Sailors will meet this afternoon at the Connaught Seamen's Institute at 2:45. Special business will come up for consideration.

G. W. V. A. Tax Day—There will be a meeting of all those interested in the G. W. V. A. tax day this evening at 8 o'clock, at the headquarters of the association, Fairbanks-Morse Building.

Sergeants' Mess—The regular monthly meeting of the Sergeants' Mess of the Royal Canadian Artillery will be held tonight at the Armories at eight o'clock.

The question is so complicated that considerable time is required to draft the entire agreement, the Minister said.

According to the U.S. naval decision in respect of the protracted litigation that has been going on, the Federal Government is given control over harbors which were designated as harbors at the time of Confederation.

COLLEEN MOORE STARS AT COLUMBIA

Pretty Film Artist Featured in "Broken Chains," Showing Tuesday for Three Days

Colleen Moore, who has the title role in Hollywood's production of "Broken Chains," will be shown by W.M. Hubber, which comes to the Columbia this Theatre today for three days, has been studying the new styles in hair dressing with some little concern.

"I simply do not want to look like a peeled onion," wails the pretty Colleen. "I imagine slicking the hair back until it leaves the face all exposed and the ears out!"

"That Greek knot thing is all very well, but when the hair has to be brushed tight off the forehead (as I had to do while playing Mercy House) it looks awful. I just can't seem to be becoming to some of us—we have dunes that even Mr. Webster would have approved!"

"The ear-muffs have been awful, but they were only patronized by the extremely wealthy—that is, the new style calls for the ear-muffs. I am wondering what those who have 'muffed' them for so long are going to do. Maybe the ears have disappeared entirely!"

"The bob is out!"

"My word, there's going to be a demand for hair the next few months.

I am thinking of going into the false hair business—and reuring on the spoils."

"What are we going to do for hair?

"One thing I'm happy about —my family absolutely refused to allow me to cut my hair—but I have felt I have missed something just the imagination."

"There are stage-trained children who are clever—lots of them—and usually they give people who know them privately a 'pain.' They strut, loutish and vulgar, and make themselves generally obnoxious."

"Jackie doesn't. He is just a natural, lovable, happy little fellow, whose face reflects his every thought—a prodigy if you will—but, in spite of that, he is a regular boy. And that's saying a lot!"

"Jackie did most of the entertaining at his party—sort of ran the show to suit himself, ad libing his way along in a manner few adults could improve upon."

Canned Fruit

An exhibit of canned fruit in jars was very attractively shown in the middle of the fruit, and beyond it, piles of various crabapples and pears were seen.

The grains came next, small sheaves of the same kind, each sample being named. Of the oats, the Conqueror was the finest, running eighty-seven bushels and two pounds to the acre. The "Sun" wheat was very large bushels and forty pounds to the acre. The apples showed well, the Alexander being very large while the Melba, a new apple grown at the farm, was specially interesting. It is a cross with the Mackintosh Red, and in the opinion of Mr. Coun. Dominion horticulturist, is a triumph in apple cultivation.

SPEAKS OF WORK OF FRENCH RELIEF FUND

Countess d'Audiffret Addresses Members of Women's Canadian Club at First Meeting of Season

Countess d'Audiffret was the speaker at the first meeting of the Winter series of the Women's Canadian Club, which was held yesterday afternoon at the Victoria Hotel. The speaker outlined the work of the French Relief Fund. Pro Infanta, Pro Patrie, for which she has been working unceasingly for several years, and in aid of which the Countess presented "Human Puppets" last Saturday night, and is arranging the "Moulin Rouge" Cabaret tomorrow evening.

In explaining the aims of the French Relief Fund the speaker announced that "full board and perfect education is given to as many children as the institution can adopt of all classes." Education is given according to the gifts of the children, and not according to the class to which the child belongs. The Relief Fund has no institution of its own, but the fund pays for scholarships in different schools and institutions, which are left to the choice of the guardians of the child, and a college education is the general rule. The Fund is a pre-war institution, and several young men were compiling their courses when the Great War broke out, and left to take up arms at their country's call.

The Countess proudly recalled having herself seen a report signed by Clemenceau stating that the Relief Fund was one of the best and most healthy institutions of which he knew. Countess d'Audiffret, who is an ardent admirer of her country's great statesman, spoke of the work of the Tiger during the war, mentioning that he used to visit the troops every second day to give them encouragement and comfort, and during the days when the war clouds lowered over the French lines.

For eight years the Countess has been closely associated with the organization, and her activities have carried her into many lands where she has received ready aid for her purpose. She has visited Spain, Italy, Egypt and India.

Countess d'Audiffret, who has lived for several years in Germany, said it was undeniable that from generation to generation there was transmitted a racial antagonism in the Germans against French and against England, and she added, "Let us hope through years to come this antagonism may be overcome."

Mrs. C. Snodford moved a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker at the conclusion of her address.

Mrs. Hyndman, president, was in the chair at the meeting yesterday when a nominating committee, composed of five members, was elected. Those elected were Mrs. Gie, Mrs. Cochrane, Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Korti and Mrs. R. H. Taylor. Mrs. Hyndman pointed out that while any member of the club was eligible for election as an officer she hoped that the voting members would first ascertain if their candidate would take office and thus supply the work of the nominating committee, who will receive the names of candidates to be elected at the annual meeting on the first Wednesday of next month.

Miss Winnifred Bell, gold medalist of Massey Hall, Toronto, who is leaving shortly for Vancouver, delighted the meeting by her singing of "Snow Flakes," followed by "Song My Mother Taught Me," and an encore, "Spring." Mrs. Nasmyth played the accompaniments.

HIGH-GRADE PRODUCT MADE BY STAUNTONS

Semi-Trimmed Wallpaper Now Being Featured in Newspaper Advertising
—Begin Educational Campaign

All who are interested in the sale of wallpaper throughout Canada know what the name Staunton stands for—they know that since 1886 Staunton, Limited, have kept right on making wallpaper and improving their products. They are also aware of the fact that the semi-trimming process is probably the greatest innovation to be given to the wallpaper industry in a century.

Semi-trimming was invented by a Canadian who realized that a quicker and simpler way of trimming wallpaper would be of distinct benefit to the Canadian wallpaper dealers as well as to the public. This semi-trimming means that in course of printing the selavage is cut. It does not need to be removed by scissors or knife and straightedge. The paper-hanger merely gives the ends of the roll a rap on table or floor and the selavage falls away. Thus does semi-trimming eliminate the troublesome part of paperhanging. If done away with the disorder; it reduces the time and cost of the job.

The semi-trimming process was developed and perfected in the Staunton factory, and Staunton, manufacturing semi-trimmed wallpaper, hold exclusive rights for the papers. For some time every possible effort has been expended by Staunton in acquainting the trade with all the facts and in winning appreciation of the many advantages that this method of trimming possesses. Such success has been theirs that today Staunton semi-trimmed wallpapers enjoy distribution from coast to coast, and are winning steadily increasing favor.

And now Staunton's, Limited, have decided to commence to educate the public of Canada to the merits of the semi-trimming produced by means of a daily wide newspaper advertising campaign.

A series of large advertisements will appear in all the leading dailies throughout Canada this Fall, explaining in a most convincing manner the advantages of Staunton semi-trimmed paper to the householder. In addition the advertisements will impress the public with the fact that while the 1922-23 Staunton line excelled anything previously made in Canada the 1923-24 Staunton papers are even more beautiful.

Wallpaper dealers and paper-hangers can look forward with every confidence to a greater business in Staunton semi-trimmed wallpapers as a result of this announcement.

Lad's Body Recovered

TORONTO, Sept. 5.—Word was received last night by parents of three Toronto boys believed to have been drowned near Midland on Aug. 24, that the body of Stanley Stirling had been recovered. A crew is still dragging for the bodies of the other boys.

Out-of-Town Visitors to the Fair Are Invited to Take Advantage of All the Facilities of Our Big Store

A Premier Presentation of New Creations in

Fall MILLINERY

TODAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY

This Display Includes Every Type That Has Found Favor in the Millinery World

Early deliveries, the result of prompt buying by our expert milliners in Europe and America, make it possible for us to invite you to our Millinery Department so early, in order to view our now complete display of the world's most popular hat styles accepted by the fashion centres for Fall and Winter.

While it has always been our privilege—owing to our method of keeping in close contact with the most dependable markets—to give our customers the newest, most refined in the millinery of the different seasons, we have this season excelled our usual assemblage of different types, qualities and numbers, making a display rather more interesting than in previous years.

Medium and small hats seem to have the preference this Fall, but many delightful wide brims and tricorn shapes are shown, while dainty toques and tam crowns are numerous. The colors, too, are beautiful, the combinations striking, yet distinctive, because of the tasteful manner in which they have been blended. Large looped bows of velvet decorate many of the smaller hats, while feathers, flowers, beads and fruits are used with judicious taste on many models.

It is impossible to give a detailed description of the many beautiful hats in the Millinery Rooms. But you will be heartily welcomed today, Friday and Saturday in the department, when you may take your own time to examine and admire the display.

VISITORS TO THE FAIR ARE SPECIALLY INVITED TO VIEW THIS DISPLAY WHILE IN TOWN.
